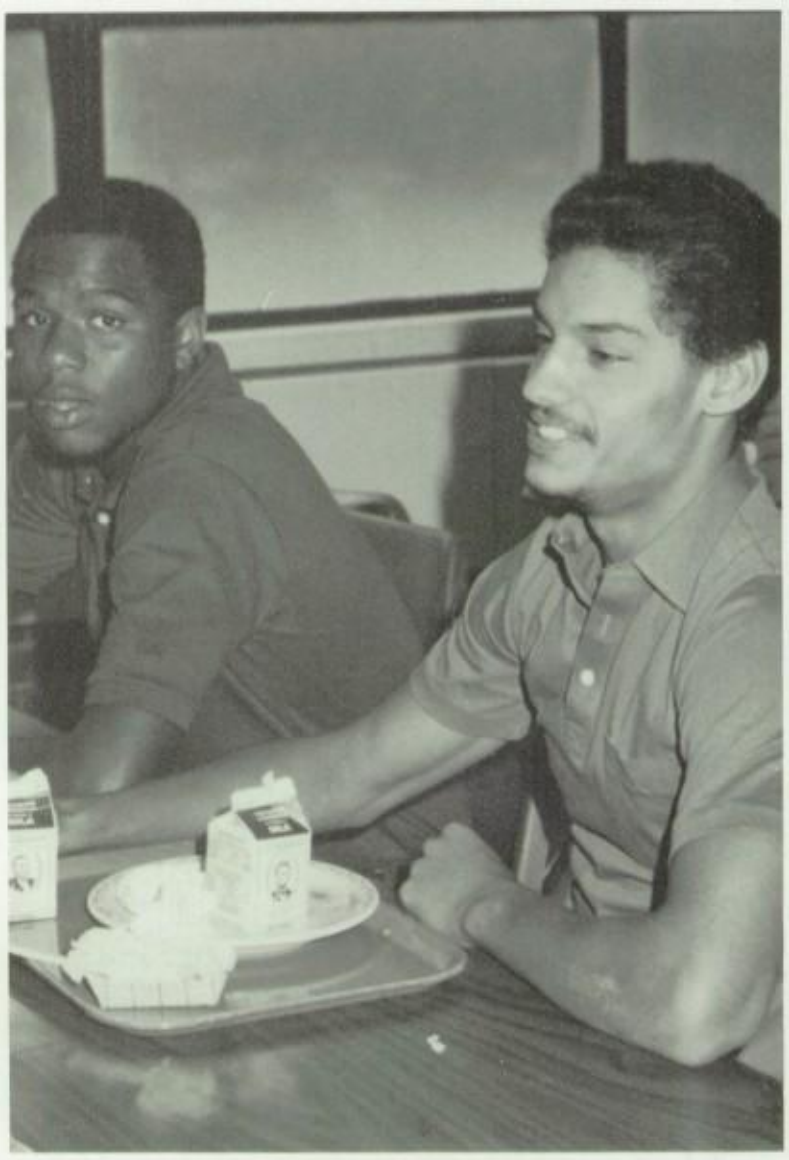
The Magic of Friendship Rates with the Class of '84 . . .



Time and again the answer to the question "What will you remember the most about NBHS?" was the same — "The friends I made while in high school." The answers generally expressed special events shared with a friend more often than "things" about school. It was often "The time so-and-so and I did . . ." or "The time so-and-so and I had classes with . . ." or "Being with friends at lunch time" or "Being with friends during senior lounge."

In response to those many replies, we salute friendships we hope will last throughout our lives even though time, distance and circumstances may separate us.

Friends share laughs, pains, problems, moments, events and a multitude of feelings —

3 R's at NBHS

Records — Romance — Recreation!

The class of '84 had some definite ideas about each of these topics.

In the area of music, "All Night Long" narrowly beat out "Every Breath You Take" for top spot as the favorite song. Michael Jackson and Pat Benatar were both walk-aways for top male and female singers. In the race for top group honors, Police was challenged heavily by others, but managed to retain first place.

It's interesting to note that this survey was done in the late fall of 1983, long before the many music award programs held nationally; and yet, the choices made by the class of '84 were strikingly similiar to national choices. I guess you could say they were "in tune" with their peers across the country!

P.S. We left an extra space for each person to fill in his or her own personal choice in each category.

Magic of Romance Brings Sharing and Caring

When asked about favorite types of dates, the old stand-by of walking on the beach still ranked the highest. The traits looked for in a partner included a nice smile, a good sense of humor, a sensitive nature and the ease to discuss feelings openly. The top of the "Dream Date" list went to Chris Brinkley and John Stamos. However many people voted for their own girlfriend or boyfriend as their dream date. It must be magic!

Female Dream Date

1. Chris Brinkley
2. Brooke Shields
3. Jayne Kennedy
4. Jennifer Beals
5. Heather Thomas

I Wish I Had Said That!

We all see moments or scenes where our creative comments beg to flow over to our fellow students. Here are some such scenes.

"Simon says, 'Put your hand on your chin.'"

"5 to 1 she says no!"

"Faster than a speeding bullet."

"We found the ball. It's up here!"

"Wake me up when it's over."

"I love my locker."

"Us cheating? You've got to be kidding!"

"Come on, take me to the prom."

"Lunch will be served according to height!"

"I just washed my hair and I can't do a thing with it!"

"Is there no one out there who will challenge me?"

"McDonald's is bad, but this is ridiculous!"

"Bull's eye!"

"Beware stomach, here it comes!"

"We better get A's on these term papers!"

"My dentures are slipping!"

"Bet I can walk a straight line."

"So, that's what it looks like!"

"It's only Playboy!"

"That was one heck of a splinter!"

A LITTLE HUMOR . . .

Student to Nurse: "I didn't go to see the doctor because I wasn't feeling too good!"

Note from mother of 14 children:
"Dear Teacher,
Please excuse John's absence yesterday. I lost count when I woke up the children and I forgot John."

Quiz question: "Over what were Agamemnon and Achilles fighting during the Trojan War?"
Answer: "They were fighting over who spoiled the war."

Note from parent: "Dear Teacher,
My daughter was absent Friday due to her not feeling."

Test question: "What is the Caduceus?"
Answer: "The Caduceus is the symbol of Herpes."

Nurse to Student: "What's wrong?"
Student: "I have a headache.
Nurse: "Here's an icecap."
Student: "Where do I put it?"

Test question: "Name one other work by Mark Twain (besides Tom Sawyer)."
Answer: Unga Bury Fun

Note from parent: "Dear Teacher,
My son was absent Wednesday because of his sour shoulder."

Test question: "Identify Creon in the play Oedipus Rex."
Answer: "Creon was Joe Caster's brother."

Student to nurse: "I have static cling on my leg, can I have some lotion?"

Note from parent: "Dear Teacher,
Please excite Sherry for being absent on Tues., Dec. 6th."

Student: "I told my father what you said yesterday."
Teacher: "What are you talking about?"
Student: "I told my father you called me a dirty elephant."
Teacher: "What!"
Student: "Yesterday. You told me to stop talking and to turn around. You said I was a dirty elephant."
Teacher: "I said, 'Turn around; you're a disturbing element!' "

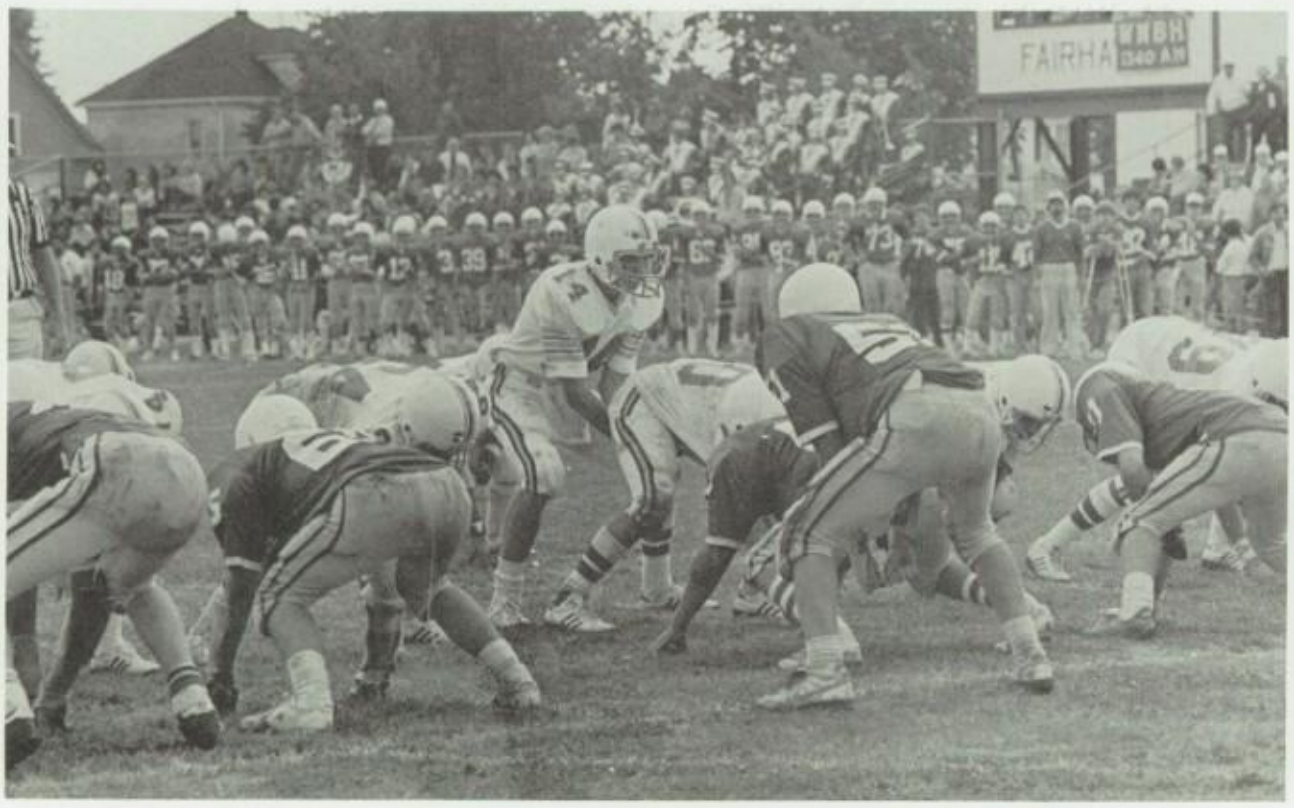
Whalers Put In a Tough Season, but Come Out Winners —

As the 1983 football season began, the Whalers future did not appear too bright. They were plagued by inexperience and the loss of several key varsity players. Despite a 2-3 record after five games, the Crimson turned in a solid second-half performance. Coach Liljedahl's forces became a model of consistency as they won four of their last five games, including victories over tough Falmouth and Barnstable teams.

The Whalers were led by confident senior quarterback John Bennett. Teaming with Bennett on offense were senior Brendan MacDonald and junior running sensation Dave DePina. The passing game was also effective with seniors Preston Perry and Victor Fuentes leading the charge.

Meanwhile, the defense proved that "when you're hot you're hot." Throughout the season the defense came up with big plays led by co-captains Ed (Wheaties) Caron and Donald Rodrigues.

The Whalers finished 6-4 which is pretty good for a team some people were ready to write off at the beginning of the season. To the 1983 Whalers — we tip our hats!



X-Country Team Concentrates on Building Experience —

The NB cross-country team, a very young squad, rebounded from an 0-3 start (3 losses by 1 point) to finish with a respectable 4-4 record after developing into a strong club over the second half of the season.

Highlights during the second half of the season were convincing dual-meet wins over Dartmouth (15-42) and Somerset (15-50), a 2nd place finish in the SMC Division I championship (avenging early season defeats to Attleboro and Seekonk in the process), and a 6th place finish in the State Division I championships involving the 25 largest schools in Eastern Massachusetts.

The Whalers were led by senior captain Tony Macedo who ran the second fastest time (14:38) ever recorded by a Whaler runner at Buttonwood Park. Both Macedo and Andy Wolfe were named to the league all-star team for their performances. Seniors Chris Bailey, Mike Souza and Marc Ribeiro contributed heavily to the varsity cause throughout the season with Souza's strong effort in the SMC championship meet providing the spark that the Whalers' needed to secure a 2nd place finish. Next year's squad has a promising future with the returning juniors and sophomores.

Whalers Gain Respect of All for Ability and Standards —

With an outstanding record once again the Whalers gained respect and recognition for themselves, the school and the community.

In spite of an unusual set of circumstances, the Whalers qualified for tournament play where they once again excelled. They gained victories over Boston English, Bridgewater-Raynham and Falmouth. Unfortunately, their hopes were crushed by Needham in the finals by a score of 1-0 in the fifth overtime.

Despite this blow, the Whalers had put in a magnificent season with highlights such as the victory over D-Y in both score and class (as shown later by the handling of a technicality.)

Every player showed outstanding performances during the season, but senior players, Henry Andrade, Tony Medina and Theirno Niang, had splendid seasons. Srs. Fransisco Oliveira, Peter Rafael, Jesse d'Almeida and Manny Duarte also turned in great performances. Meanwhile, goalie Paul Rego and Nelson Rodriques stunned spectators with their skillful saves.

With dedication from players and coaches the NBHS soccer team followed the Whaler tradition of superb soccer playing.

The N.B.H.S. Boys' Swim Team came home to their own restored pool and the S.M.U. pool became just a memory. With a new ceiling above them, the team mastered their new pool with intensity and determination as shown in their record: 7 wins — 3 losses.

Finishing third in the Relay Carnival and second only to Seekonk in the Conference Developmental Meet, the Whalers Swim Team proved to be an excellent asset to a strong and prestigious athletic program. The team is coached by Mr. James Medeiros.

Co-captains Peter Berthiaume and Mike Richard helped boost morale when the going got tough, and they were aided by surprising newcomer, Bill Mello and his diving ability. Losing first to Duxbury because of fingertip touch-outs in a few races and upsetting victories, the Whalers' morale went straight downhill. Next, the loss at Seekonk was another factor in reducing the team's confidence. With the Durfee Meet it came down to the last relay to decide the winner . . . unfortunately to their advantage they won; not only the event but also the meet!

In spite of these three losses this was a great season due to the team's effort to bounce back — as shown by the seven wins.

Seniors Eric Horn, Tony Tolentino, Bob Tweedie, Dave Garrett, Randy Lima and Paul Aresta all proved to be a distinguishable asset to our team.

Special thanks go to Mahmoud Abdel-Gawad, our foreign exchange student from Egypt, for helping us achieve our goals. Other commendable efforts were shown by juniors Scott Barrows, Rusty Clark, Joe Raposa and Roy Marmelo; and by sophomores Dave Ponte and Ricky Porter.

WHALERS TOURNAMENT BOUND

New Bedford High's season began at home with its first annual Tip-off Tournament. The Whalers won the first round with a solid victory over Our Lady of Providence, but unfortunately were defeated in the finals by Cambridge-Rindge-Latin.

Senior and captain Shaun Beaudoin was consistently the spark of the Whaler offense with a 14 point average. Johnny Souza, a quick guard, was aggressive on the floor and Kenny McClain, the 6-7 center, was known for blocking shot after shot. Joe Andrews, a definite inside scoring threat, led the team with rebounds, while Terry Wynn, coming off the bench, was always on top of things. Other seniors included Danny Soares, Ronald Jacobs and Steve Brown, all of whom contributed 100% when called into action.

Roger "Tres" Lewis, only a sophomore, was the fifth starter. His future with basketball looks promising for him and for future Whaler teams.

Once again the NBHS basketball tradition continues with the 1983-1984 team compiling an impressive record and headed for tournament play.

HOCKEY TEAM UPSETS FALMOUTH!

The NBHS Hockey Team skated its way to a 10-8-1 overall record this year. Coached by Mr. John Rolli and led by some fantastic seniors, the Whalers were able to achieve an excellent outcome for the 1983-1984 season with one of its greatest thrills coming from an upset victory over Cape powerhouse, Falmouth High by the score 3-2! No one in this area is suppose to beat this Cape team, but someone forgot to tell the Whalers this year!

Capt. Scott Allen topped off the season as the highest scorer in the SMC Division I. He was followed by Bruce Barboza who also broke the school record for the most goals in one season. In fifth place was Whaler senior Mark Souza. To back up this offensive trio was the awesome Brendan MacDonald. His excellent goaltending put the team 7-7 in their division and caused spectators' heads to whirl! The unique talents of other seniors such as: David Reis, Keith Marden, Jeff Poyant, John Vasques, Dave Roy and Kirk Morgan, will also not go unforgotten.

Coming back next year to aid the Whaler cause will be juniors Andy Rezendes, Matt Tierney, Brendan Lawler, Garrett Sylvia and Paul Goguen along with several good sophomores. Hoping for a bright future in 1984-85, we tip our hats to the talents and heroes of the Class of '84.

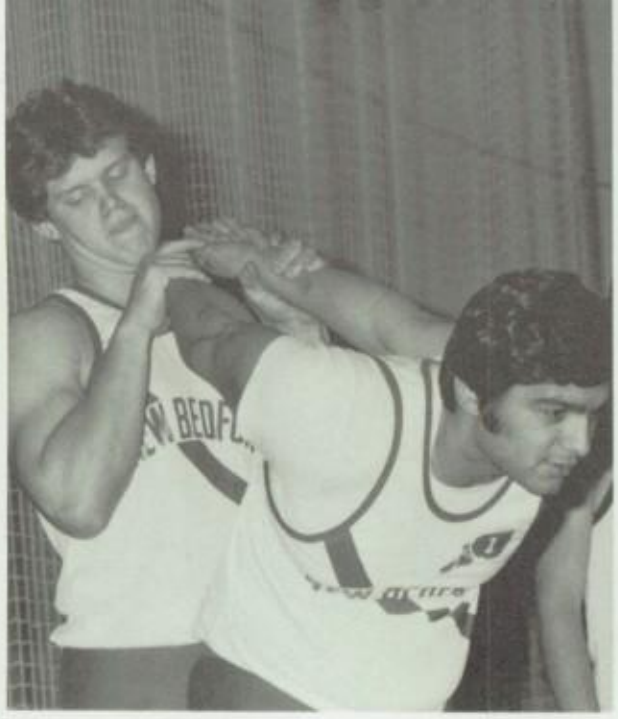
A RUN TO VICTORY!



REBUILDING YEAR PROVES TO BE MUCH MORE

The 1983-84 indoor season was supposed to be a "rebuilding" year, but the Whalers showed continued improvement throughout the season. After an early season loss at Falmouth, the Whalers won the last 5 dual meets in convincing fashion to finish with a 6-1 dual meet record.

New Bedford continued to contend in the "Big" meet season as they captured the Voc-Tech Invitational, a meet that they have captured 6 out of the past 7 years; the SMC championship meet, a meet that they have won the past 5 years in a row; as well as finishing 4th in the State Class A Relays and 3rd in the Class A championships.

Co-captains Marc Ribeiro and Tony Macedo, along with senior high jumper Jamie Costello, led the Whaler assault. Costello holds the school record with a jump of 6'6" and was the CLASS A champion. Ribeiro recorded the 6 fastest times ever run in the 600 yd run on Voc-Tech's 10 lap indoor track, a facility where every athlete in Southeastern Massachusetts has competed on regularly for the past 7 years. Macedo is one of the most versatile runners to compete for the Whalers as he excelled in events ranging from the 440 to the 2-mile. Macedo and Ribeiro combined with senior John Bennett and sophomore Chris Baxter to establish a school record in the 4x800 meters with a time of 8:06.0.

Seniors Pedro Almeida (mile), Chris Bailey (mile), Doug Harris (300), Belmiro Fernandes (relay), Ed Soares (50), Tom Costa (50), Bob Sosa (shot put), Mike Souza (2 mile) and Bruce Terry (600 and relay) all made significant contributions to the success of the Whalers.

Costello, Macedo, Ribeiro and junior 2 miler Andy Wolfe, who was undefeated in dual meet competition and was league champion, were all named to the all-league team. Sophomore Liz Alves set girls' records in the mile (5:26) and 2 mile (11:50) and also was named to the league all-stars.

It proved to be much more than simply a "rebuilding" year as first supposed, but then that's the spirit of the Whaler runner!

GIRLS' CROSS COUNTRY TEAM RUNS ONTO THE SCENE THIS YEAR

New Bedford's Girls' Cross Country Team completed their first year of varsity team competition with a 4-3 record. The young Whalers sprinted out to an early 3-1 record, but injuries depleted a team that was already small in number.

Sophomore Liz Alves and junior Michele Girard became co-record holders of the Buttonwood course as both girls posted times of 18:37. For her efforts, Liz was named to the league's all-star team. Junior captain Sue Caron supported Alves and Girard with consistently strong performances as well as fine leadership. Sophomore Nicki Girard displayed the heart and determination that marked the Whaler team as she led the Whalers to their exciting 27-29 triumph over area-powerhouse Barnstable by completing the race on a broken foot! Her loss for the remainder of the season dealt a crushing blow to the red and white as she had been developing into one of the area's best. Freshman Lori Miranda and sophomore Kathy Mulligan also showed great potential during the year with Miranda running a great race in September against Seekonk before injuries curtailed her season also.

The future looks bright as the Whalers return their top six runners for next year, and that looks very promising for them!

Girls Fight Season Weak in Experience, but Strong in Motivation —

The field hockey team had an unfortunate season, scoring only six goals. However, not lacking on this team was motivation.

Holding them back was inexperience, but in spite of this they put up quite a fight against stronger and more experienced teams in their league.

Senior star player, Angie Vasconcellos is to be commended for her outstanding efforts in a losing season as are the other girls. After all, "it's not whether you win or lose, but how you play the game!"

THE BIG SCORE!

Victory Knocks But Once —

The girls' volleyball team suffered a losing season, but gained a great deal of experience for next year's squad. With a depleted squad and only three girls returning from last year's squad the team managed only one win this season. The victory came with a triumph over Old Rochester.

Congratulations should be given to seniors Cindy Almeida, Wendy Amaral and Carol Krouzek for outstanding efforts in spite of the odds working against them.

After a slow start with two losses, the girls' swim team ran off six straight victories. Led by outstanding performances from co-captains Raegan Watkins and Cathy Weaver, the Whalers swam to their best season.

In spite of the prospect of losing seniors such as Watkins, Weaver, Bridget Lyons, Lisa Mello, Sue Touhey and Nicole Treadup, Coach Morrell feels confident the team will continue its success next year.

WHALER GIRLS PUT IN A TOUGH SEASON

The New Bedford High Whalerettes, with returning all-star Angela Vasconcellos and seniors June Silva, Leisha Conceicao and Cindy Almeida, competed in a very strong S.M.C. division league.

Angie Vasconcellos showed her great talent in an outstanding effort against home-standing Somerset by scoring 31 points. Throughout the season Angie was the spark of the offense with a 24 point average.

June Silva played a brilliant defensive game in the second meeting with Somerset. High scoring Warton was held to only 2 points in the second half due to the fine guarding of June.

Leisha Conceicao proved aggressive against Bishop Feehan and had one of her finest games. Cindy Almeida showed her prowness against Bishop Stang at home, grabbing numerous rebounds and driving to the hoop.

The Whalerettes ended with an overall 8-9 record; but with players such as Bernie Silva, Kelly Dreher, Anne Crabbe, and a fine J-V team, things look bright for Mrs. Bonneau and assistant Mr. Longo.

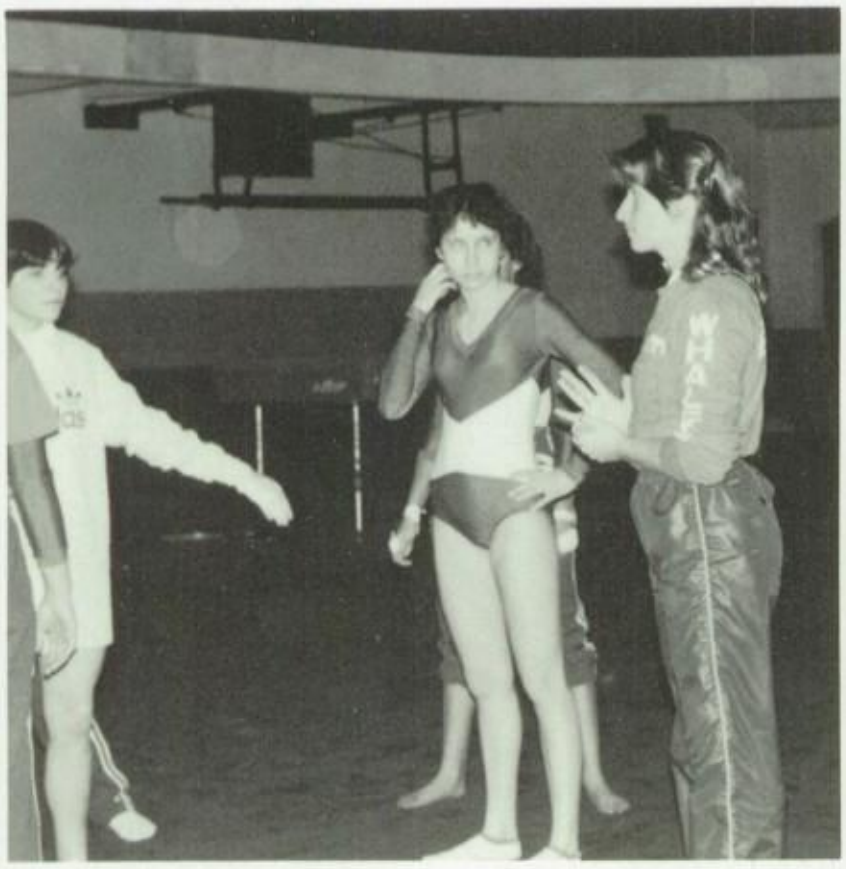
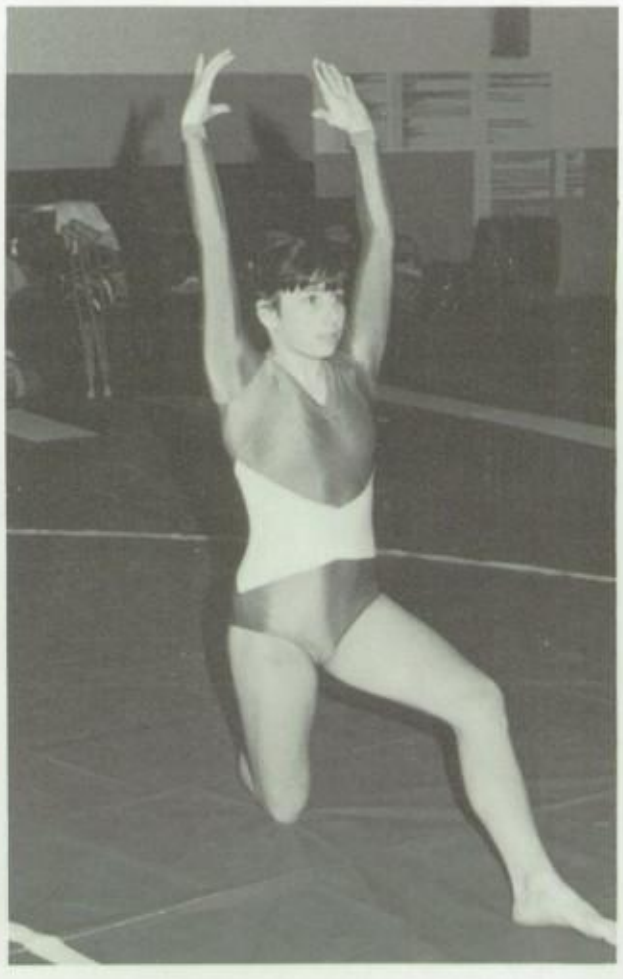
PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT!





GIRLS' GYMNASTICS FLIP OVER SUCCESSFUL SEASON

This season went particularly well for this infant team that has been in existence for only two years. Each girl participated in the four events: vaulting, floor exercise, balance beam, and uneven bars; but as in every competitive sport, certain individuals excel to greater heights than others. However, this year's Girls' Gymnastic Team reflected strong ties of friendship as well as showmanship. The girls worked well together as a team and their strength came from the depth of the entire team which provided the foundation of their success.

Next year the team will be losing this year's seniors Kathy Saltzman, captain of the team, and Anne Marie Ladino. Kathy was superior in each event, but she showed extreme talent in vaulting. Her energy and spirit created an unsurpassed enthusiasm which aided the Whaler team to victory. This was Anne Marie's first year as a member of the team; however, her poise and grace were unequalled by any of her challengers, and she proved to be an exceptional gymnast.

Other outstanding athletes include Beth Shaunessy, who ranks second in all around competition, and Anne Schwartz, who holds the school record for balance beam and uneven bars. Co-captain Christine Ferreira possessed uncomparable dance ability as well as agility. NBHS' Girls' Gymnastics Team ranks second in their league, a great accomplishment for such a young team whose confidence and expertise are still growing.

MEET OUR GUEST: EDUARDO

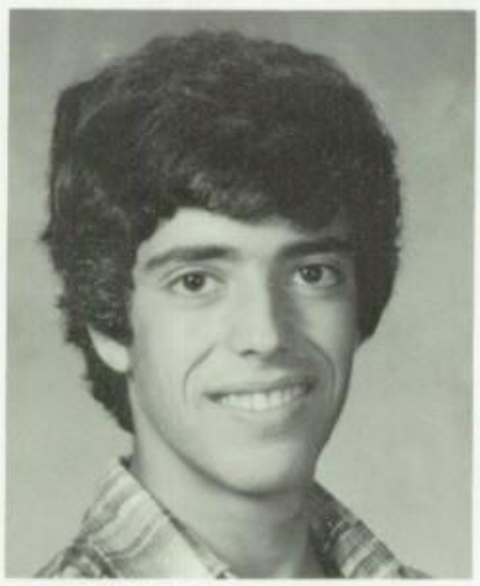
A special member of the Class of '84 is Eduardo Gonzalez, a foreign exchange student from Chile. "Lalo" has enjoyed his life here in America, especially his time at NBHS. At his school in Chile he had to wear a uniform — shirt, slacks, and tie. At NBHS he was able to wear something a little less formal — jeans and sneakers!

Eduardo pointed out other differences between Liceo A 39 (his high school in Chile) and NBHS. Instead of changing classrooms every forty-five minutes, Eduardo and his friends back home stay in the same room all day. Eduardo also found each of his teachers at NBHS very helpful and he liked the way they treated him "like a friend."

He finds that while his friends in Chile are quiet and serious, his friends in the United States are "free, crazy, funny, and happy."

Those that have met him are sorry to see him go and hope that he will take with him great memories of NBHS (as well as his Whaler jacket!).

Good luck, Eduardo, from the Class of '84.



EDUARDO GONZALEZ
Ruben Dario 428
Villa Las Orquideas, Quilpue, Chile

"Lalo" can be found at the theater or playing soccer. Enjoys listening to music-esp. Air Supply. Mr. De Silva's geometry class was favorite. Girlfriend and parents get special thanks. To become doctor. "Hi! Chica."

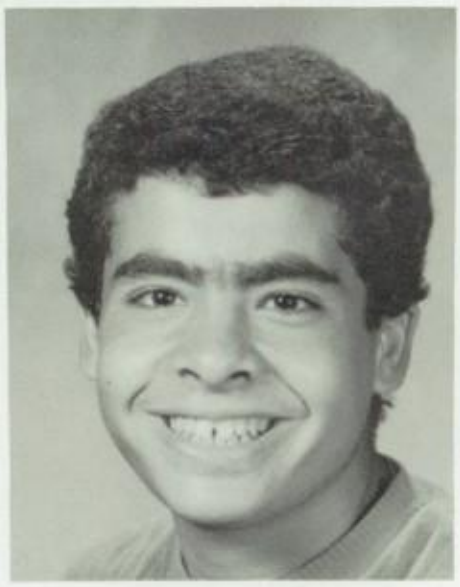
MEET OUR GUEST: MAHMOUD

The foreign exchange student representing the American Field Service this year is Mahmoud Abdel Gawad from Egypt and we are very pleased to have him as a member of the Class of '84 at NBHS. When asked about the differences found at NBHS, he told us that at St. George, his high school in Egypt, he had the same teacher all day. He finds that life is "much easier" in America than in Egypt. Mahmoud seems to have adjusted quite well.

While in America he was able to go skiing for the first time. Although he found it freezing here, Mahmoud enjoyed his time in the U.S. as a new experience. While here his English has improved and he has become more independent.

Mahmoud is anxious to return to his home and his family, but he'll miss all his new-found friends. We hope he will remember fondly his time at NBHS and will enjoy his "new life."

Best wishes, Mahmoud, from the Class of '84.



MAHMOUD MOHAMED ABDEL GAWAD

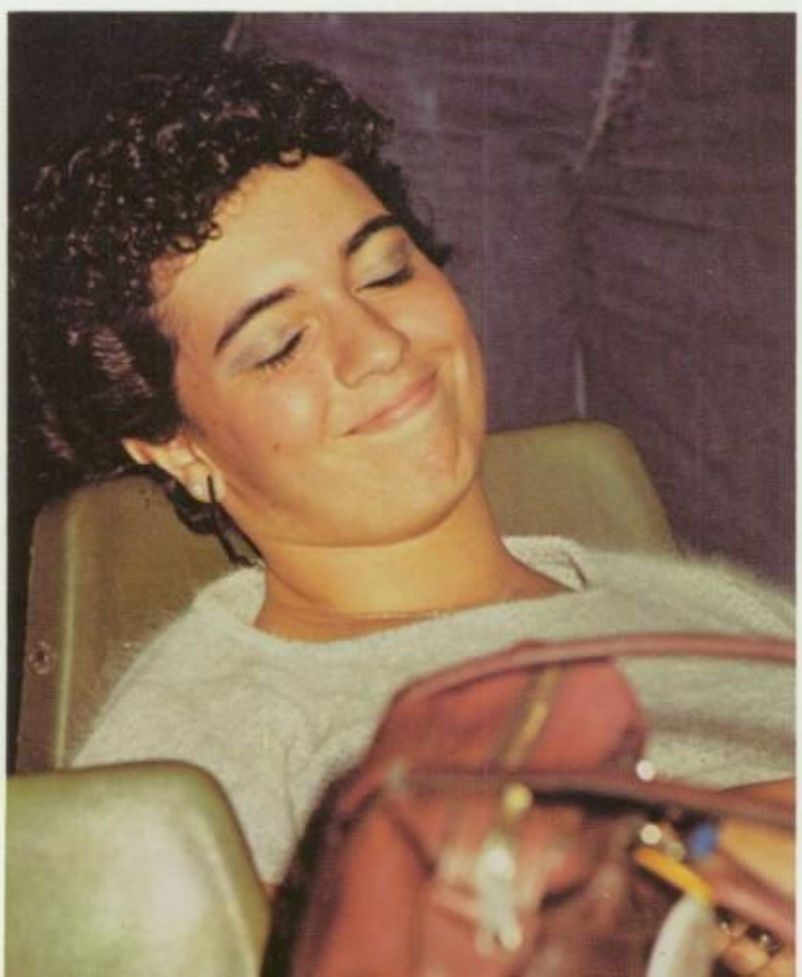
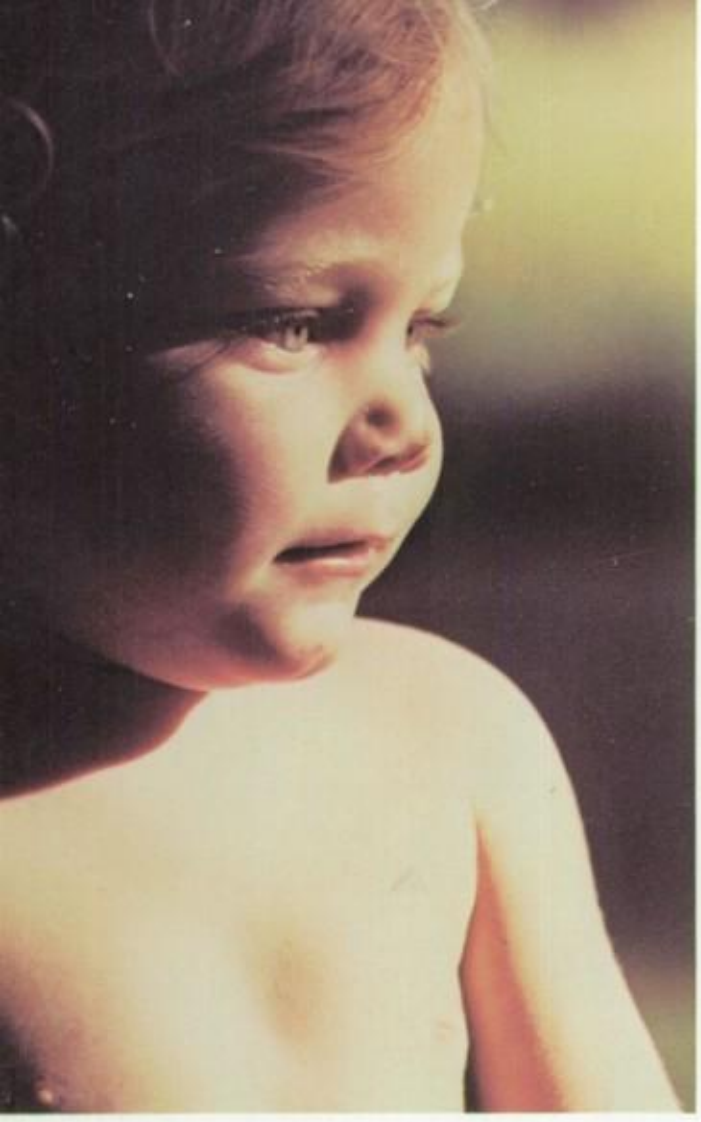
It's the presence of laughter
sprinkled like stardust
by the elves.





It lets you

CLUBS AND ACTIVITIES

The Night the Lights Went Out . . .

"Spirit of '84 lights up banquet"

The Class of '84 had to light up its banquet with spirit. A power failure hit White's Restaurant on May 26, just as everyone was seated and getting ready to begin our salads. The blackout delayed our meal, but not our fun. Candles were lit and the magic of the night began.

When the lights finally came back on, we were served our meals of fried chicken, Virginia ham, and potatoes. By that time, everyone was starved.

After eating dinner, everyone was anxious to get up and dance. The dancing was alternated with the talent portion of the program. With all the joking, laughing, dancing, and singing, the Junior Banquet will never be forgotten by those juniors present.

NOVEMBER IS . . . SPIRIT MONTH!

Spirit brings a magic of its own in many forms. It begins with a flicker and quickly spreads like wildfire. During this time the Class of '84 and students of NBHS spread their spirit through the community by raising funds at shows, games and sales. These funds they converted into food baskets for the needy which they quietly gave with the true spirit of man — LOVE.

RAGS TO RICHES

Pajama Day kicked off "Spirit Dress-up Days" held in November. After a day of parading in P.J.'s and carrying stuffed animals, the seniors were ready for Dress-up Day or the Class of '84's version of "Putting on the Ritz."

RICHES TO RAGS

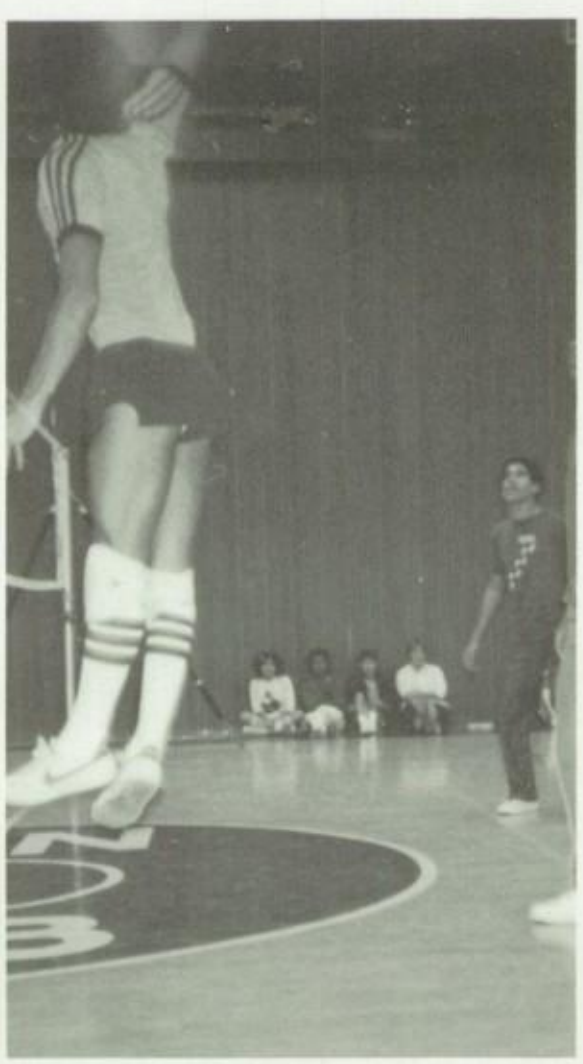
From the glory and richness of the Roman Empire, Toga Day gave way to 1984 and Punk Rock with its bizarre outfits and strange make-up.

TALENT NIGHT

The Minority Awareness Club sponsored a talent show during Spirit Week that sent shock waves through the entire building. Playing to an overflowing crowd, the acts were awesome. Anyone who missed Donny Hunt's version of Michael Jackson, the "Ice Crew" or the singing and dancing talents of the talented girls and guys missed a treat not soon to be matched. Hats off to all involved including the super D.J. and the M.C. John Duarte.

STUDENTS ROUT FACULTY

The Natural Sciences Club sponsored a faculty-student volleyball game which entertained and delighted the audience by putting victory on the side of the students. It was spills and laughs for both sides and a great deal of true sportsmanship.



ANYTHING GOES!

Masquerade Day continues to be a hit at NBHS. Remembering all the costumes, it is easy to see the difficulty of choosing winners for the costume contest sponsored by the Honor Society. Everyone shows up at the morning rally to see the football players, band, cheerleaders and majorettes in costume. This year the cheerleaders chose torn shirts of gang members for Michael Jackson's "Beat It"; while the Majorettes, as maids, twirled to Donna Summer's "She Works Hard for the Money." After the announcement of the senior class as winners of the spirit link sale, the presentation of this year's mascot was made. The winner was the Tazmanian Devil. An added touch to this year's rally was the presence of Bobbie Watkins, a former NFL player. All in all spirit was high and getting ready for the bonfire that night.

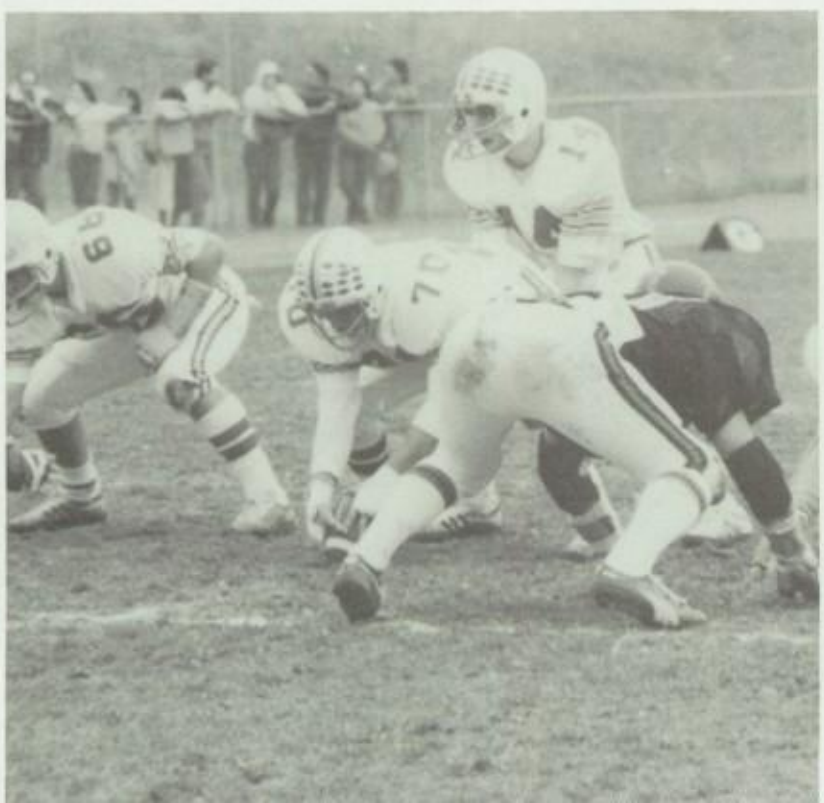
BONFIRE FAILS TO IGNITE VICTORY FOR TEAM

On the night before the game a spirited parade, rally and bonfire were held for the Whaler football team. A car decorating contest sponsored by the Business Club took place downtown in front of the library, followed by a parade taking the team by fire truck to Buttonwood Park for a rally and huge bonfire. In spite of this, the team lost the next day for the first time in twelve years. They never gave up however, as they managed to score in the final minutes, showing their true fighting spirit. Next year . . . ?



SPIRIT WEEK CLOSES WITH DANCING

The month of November came to a close with the traditional spirit dance. Over three hundred enjoyed the music and refreshments. The dance was sponsored by the Inter-club Council and brought an end to the month's festivities until next year.

TAZMANIAN DEVIL VOTED SENIOR MASCOT

"Taz" says thank you to Kirsten Johnson for drawing him so well and to Craig Levesque for playing him so well. As an honorary member of the Class of '84, he wishes everyone good luck and reminds them, "There'll be no more like '84!"

THE YEARBOOK STORY!

A great deal of time and effort went into the making of the Crimson Log '84. The work began in the spring while we were still juniors. First, applications were sent in and prospective candidates were interviewed by Dean Bizzarro. Choices were made and editors and staffs were announced by late May. The work was just around the corner.

The first order of business for those interested was a conference held in June by the Hunter Publishing Co., the company that prints our book. The multi-media show gave a variety of ideas for use in the yearbook.

Finally, summer vacation. Rest, no work, right? Wrong! The staff met on summer nights for training sessions with Mr. Dick Swiech, our representative from Hunter. He worked with the staff and gave us pointers for producing a quality product. Aside from these general meetings, the other editors and I met alone to decide things such as theme, print, paper choice, cover choice, color choice, etc. In addition to these meetings, each staff member sought out the required $20.00 ad from a retailor. Some of us struggled to get one $20.00 ad while others got over $100.00 easily. I guess some people are natural sales people! By the end of the summer, our theme was written; many ads were in; many decisions were made; and we were ready for September to arrive; or so we thought!

Work on the yearbook begins this way — but it does not last long!

Who Said This Was a Piece of Cake!

The '83-'84 school year began and the pressure was on. A section of the book, usually 45 pages, was due with each of the 5 deadlines. The staff had to work hard to try to meet each of these deadlines. Before anything could go to the printer, it had to be proofread. Mistakes cost money. We heard that from Ms. Bizzarro all the time! The first deadline which included all the color was due in October. (It came so quickly!)

Meanwhile the advertising staff was busy getting ads, sponsors, and sr. messages. All this helped to keep the cost of the book down since the actual cost is closer to $25.00.

Another conference was attended to check out our competition. NBHS received a certificate for its '83 yearbook in the "highest achievement" category, given only to the top one-third yearbooks in New England.

We wanted to be sure the '84 yearbook did as well. With new spirit we once again attached the over 500 questionnaires, mounds of pictures and tons of copy. Thank heaven for typists. Everything, including ads, must be typed!

By the last week of February the final touches were put on the last 24 pages to be sent to the printer. What a relief!

One final task is to get together after graduation and put the supplement together! The staff and I hope you're pleased with our work.

Dick Swiech is giving information on doing lay-outs during our summer training session.

Annemarie is looking through the telephone book for advertising prospects.

Esmerelda is trying to fit the information from the questionnaire on the grid.

Thanks to Kirsten Johnson we have some great art work in our yearbook.

Eric is getting ideas from newspaper articles for his sports copy.

Wendy is typing her heart out. All the writing or "copy" in the yearbook had to be typed before being sent to print.

Here's Chris with the finished product. Hope you enjoyed looking through this yearbook.

The yearbook is finished and now it's time to relax and enjoy our senior year! I said relax, not collapse!!!

BAND IS . . . Practice

It's Half-time Shows, Competitions and Eating On-the-Run . . .

BAND IS BEING THE BEST!

It all started with band camp in August. Intense rehearsals on hot summer nights and weekends. Finally a finished product was achieved. Before long it was the first performance — the Brockton game. The show wasn't perfect, but still eyes shined and chins were up.

What's next? More practice, of course! Two short weeks to clean up the show before the 1st competition in Woonsocket on Oct. 2. How time flies! To start off a great year — a great performance. Results? N.B.H.S., first, with a sweep of trophies. Off to a great start again!

As the season progressed, nearly all the performances were tremendous! Slowly, but surely, the N.E.S.B.A. finals were creeping up. Eventually, it was the BIG DAY: Sunday, Nov. 13. Place: The Manning Bowl in Lynn, MA. The band members and all auxiliary units weren't just ready, WE WERE BORN READY!! This was it for the seniors! Radios blared, buses were decorated, and the hope of victory was apparent in everyone's eyes. Tension was obvious as the buses pulled up at the stadium. Mr. V. called the unit into a big huddle; everyone joined hands; and the entire band did colors — the band's way of meditating, relaxing, and getting their heads on straight before each competition.

Known by the judges as "The Big Red Marching Blob" because of their lackadaisical appearance off the field, the Whaler Band soon brought the crowd to their feet by merely entering the stadium! The announcer asked the band if they were ready. The band's reply echoed throughout the stadium! Next, the drum major's salute, and at last, the opener began! Horns blared, chins were up and the auxiliary unit added their special touch of "Aztec Fire."

Energy was generated throughout the stadium while the band performed "T.O.," "Dance with Me George" and "Didi." The professional performance once again brought the crowd to their feet! An unbelievably energetic, perfect performance! The BEST ever! N.B.H.S. Whaler Marching Band Association Class B champs for 1983. (The 2nd straight year!) Along with the trophies and flag championship, the band set 3 records: Highest score ever recorded in N.E.S.B.A. (90.6); First Class B band to get highest overall score; First band to win N.E.S.B.A. for 2 straight years!

Along with the prizes, the unit received an extra bonus: 2 boxes of garbage bags. The winners of Class B were required to clean the stadium; but it was worth every minute of it!

An almost undefeated season ended better than anyone could have wished.

NEW ENGLAND CHAMPIONS!

Beating Dartmouth Makes It All Worthwhile . . .

Being a member of the colorguard means working many hours along with the band. The learning of the field show begins at the end of August. From then on it's practice every weekend until the middle of November when the marching season ends. It's a lot of work, but it's a lot of fun too.

Colorguard means meeting people, learning how to work well with people, and taking on responsibility as an individual and as a team. Last year in the finals, along with the championship band banner, the colorguard brought home the "Best Colorguard" trophy for Class B. The highest point of the day, however, came with the announcement that NBHS placed first overall in all classes, thereby beating our biggest rival, Dartmouth High.

Hopefully the success will continue when the band and colorguard travel to Toronto this May.

Practice Makes This Squad Winners . . .

Being a majorette means a great deal to each girl who finally makes it. At try-outs, each candidate must make up a routine, know the different twirls, and perform by herself in front of the advisor and staff and all the other girls who are as nervous as she is.

Becoming a majorette means hard work and plenty of practice! Every day after school for two hours and twice a week from six to ten p.m. is the normal practice routine. When there aren't any competitions or football games, practice is held all day Saturday.

Competitions are nerve-racking, but exciting. As part of the color guard of the band, the majorettes compete throughout New England, and, during the past year, in Florida and Canada. On their own, majorettes competed in the Quincy Christmas Competition where they brought home their own trophies.

CHEERLEADERS EXPLODE WITH SPIRIT

It starts with tryouts in May —
We all quiver and shake,
practice and stretch.
How our bodies do ache!

The hardest part is not over —
In fact it's just begun!
July brings practice at the park
But that can be lots of fun!

September brings the thrill of our first football game —
Band competitions where we win it all.
Everything runs smoothly,
We're moving right through fall!

December brings basketball —
A sport in which our team does excel.
If our squad is good in competition
We'll do as well!

Banquets are the best —
But we don't want it to stop.
We'll look back at this year's squad
And remember when we were at the top!

DRAMA CLUB: BEHIND THE SCENES

The Drama Club introduces students to the excitement and challenge of live theatre. Two shows a year in the fall and spring bring almost professional caliber productions to New Bedford. Work both on stage and background bring big scale shows such as Dracula, A Christmas Carol, The Good Doctor, South Pacific, Jesus Christ, Superstar, The King and I, and The Wiz. Massive sets and gorgeous costumes, special lighting and spirited choreography have all been great artistic and creative successes. Theatre trips to New York and Boston give Drama Club members the chance to see professional performances. Many members continue to pursue the study of drama after graduation.

THE GOOD DOCTOR

THE GOOD DOCTOR was a special challenge for the Drama Club — a fall production that was not really a musical, but had music, dancing, and singing. A comedy by Neil Simon, it was based on short stories by the great Russian writer, Anton Chekhov. Mike Ventura played "The Writer" and introduced, commented on, and even took roles in the ten separate playlets. The charm and humor of old Russia was seen in "The Sneeze" with Steve Myers as a government clerk who sneezes all over his superior (Paul Foucart) and ends up fading away; "The Governess" had Sue Rocka as a seemingly cruel mistress of a timid Michelle Stuart; "The Dentist" had Ken Torres as the first patient (victim?) of a determined Mark Leblanc; "Too Late for Happiness" had the only song in the show as an old couple (Paul Foucart and Maria Figuerido) try to find companionship and understanding; "The Seduction" had a womanizing Mike McGrath slyly seducing Wendy Capra away from Eric Hubert; "The Drowned Man" had Jeff Barrows making his own apparent suicide an entertainment for the writer;

The Audition had a meek would-be actress (Penny Pimentel) attempt to get an acting job (she does); "The Weak Defenseless Creature" had Holly Broadbent drive a frustrated bank official (Tony Medeiros) and his assistant (Scott Wazlowski) to equal insanity; and "The Arrangement" had a teenager (John Cosmos) come to grips with growing up with the aid of his father.

This demanding production had sets that spun around and changed quickly; specially painted curtains and lighting effects, and special choreography by six Russian dancers (Dawn Andrews, Vicki Maisoiave, Penny Pimentel, Kevin Burns, Jeff Barrows, and Eric Hubert). This certainly was another Drama Club show NBHS could be proud of!

GOD

NBHS STUDENT LEADERS

In a school as large as NBHS, it is necessary to have good student leaders to act as links between groups and administration and advisors.

The role of the Student Advisory Council under the direction of Mr. J. Robinson does an excellent job of acting as a liaison between the general student body and the administration. They help make decisions affecting the student body and work hard on school projects such as the Academic Excellence Program.

With over 30 clubs in the school, good leadership is needed to direct activities of each club or organization. This leadership comes from the club presidents whose duties change, depending on the individual club and advisor.

New to the high school this year is the Inter-club Council, made up of the vice-presidents of each organization. This group attempts to bring all clubs together throughout the year to sponsor activities that are of interest to everyone, such as Spirit Week, school dances, flea markets, etc.

Perhaps the hardest-worked groups are the steering committees — esp. the senior steering committee. The committee is made up of one representative from each homeroom and is responsible for handling all financial obligations of that room as well as passing on all pertinent information between homerooms and the Dean's Office. In addition to dues, senior members are responsible for tallies on yearbooks, caps and gowns, banquets, proms, etc.

Last but not least, are the class officers. The social life of a particular class sometimes rests on the interest generated by the officers. The officers also lead meetings of the steering committees.

All in all the role of student leadership is paramount to a well-run school.

THE ART OF COMMUNICATION

Many of our high school students have been involved in activities associated with communications. Through membership in WIMC-TV, Crimson Courier or Alpha, students have been able to display their work in the weekly television show, School Scan; in the school's newspaper, The Crimson Courier; or in the school's annual literary magazine, Alpha. All students involved have shared their talents and creativity by sharing information and entertaining others through their work in the area of communications. They have attended conferences and workshops to improve their product, and the end results have shown these improvements.

There have been many students active in the career-oriented clubs at N.B.H.S. Through membership in the Business Club, the Natural Science Club or the Future Teachers' Club, students were able to research their interest in future careers involving business, medicine, science or education.

The Business Club members learned about the business world by organizing activities such as car washes, cake sales and general sales campaigns. In addition to this, they attended business conferences for meetings and seminars on business topics. The Natural Sciences concentrated on the knowledge of the world around them. Their objective was to promote interest among people in the natural sciences. For the Future Teachers, "learn by doing" proved successful. To acquaint themselves with teaching, the members were actively involved with tutoring. They also visited campuses of various schools for orientation.

In general, these students took advantage of their interests to learn more about future careers.

LENDING A HAND . . .

Three of the top service clubs at NBHS lend a hand to both the school and community with their service projects.

The Student Congress works primarily with the administration to establish school rules and regulations and election procedures. They also assist with the annual food drives.

The Usher Corps lends its services at school plays, concerts, open house registrations, and competitions. They usher for the city and state pageants, graduations and the mayor's inauguration.

The Key Club sends its members to nursing homes to visit with patients, and it organizes a city-wide collection for food baskets for those in need at Thanksgiving and at Christmas.

NBHS is proud of these people who give so freely of their time.

THE WORLD AROUND US . . .

Education comes from more than arriving at a building each morning and trudging home with armloads of books each afternoon. A true education is the meeting and mingling of minds and cultures. It is to this end that our three cultural clubs strive. Members are encouraged to learn about the worlds beyond their own through social, cultural and community-oriented activities.

TALENT ON DISPLAY

The Minority Awareness Club and the Art Club have proven themselves to be filled with fresh and innovative talent this year.

The Minority Awareness Club demonstrated a diversified range of talents during its first annual talent show which was an overwhelming success.

The talent of the Art Club was reflected in the designs and decorations shown in the display cases in various locations throughout NBHS. In addition to these cases the members also lent their talents to posters used for publicity of dances and other school functions.

Future artists in the creative and entertaining fields will certainly come from these two groups.

THE WORLD OF DISCOVERY

Both the History Club and the Great Outdoors Club strive to discover more about themselves by learning more about the world around them, past and present.

The History Club takes field trips to historic sites for educational purposes, while the Great Outdoors Club travels to various spots to experience the world outside the classroom. These trips include mountain climbing in New Hampshire, canoeing in Maine, and bicycling on Martha's Vineyard. As noted, both of these clubs are both educational and fun for the members.

THE SOUNDS OF MUSIC!

During the course of the year the Music Department of New Bedford High, which consists of the groups shown as well as the band, actively participates in school functions, community functions, caroling, dance and Christmas concerts.

Balance, diction, intonation and tone are all essential in each performance. Select groups, such as Show Choir, perform popular music in three or four part harmony with dance which is choreographed by each group. The styles of singing vary from group to group, giving each a unique and distinguished sound.

The two distinct groups of the department are the Select SSA Chorus and the TBB Chorus. Select SSA is an auditioned group for female singers. They prepare serious music with a perfect three part harmony blend. The TBB is a male chorus which sings many styles of music in two or three part harmony.

Throughout the year the goal of each group is to strive toward perfection and unity in singing and performance.

SOUNDS OF THE SEASON

Once again the NBHS choral groups gave a diversified Christmas Concert. The concert opened with the traditional Sleigh Ride carol performed by the band. This was followed by the SSA and TBB who sang a medley of carols which included Carol of Bells and Christmas Garland accompanied by electric bass and drums. Messiah, Unto Us a Child Is Born and I Heard the Bells were sung with excellence by the Selected SSA. The four part auditioned, Concert Chorale, performed What Child Is This? and Messiah — Hallelujah Chorus. Choreographed by the Show Choir was an upbeat number called Christ Child Is Born, which was also accompanied by bass guitar, drums and piano. The guitar performed soft and mellow classical guitar pieces, and the finale was performed by all the members singing Festival of Carol. It was an inspiring concert.

DISTRIBUTIVE EDUCATION

"A little salesmanship goes a long way"

Distributive Education is more than a class or club. It is a breaking ground to a future career. The students in DE, in addition to classes, run the school bookstore where their salesmanship shines. They further their skills for the job market by spending part of the school day in actual employment.

Shown here are sample shots of the bookstore where customers are tempted to buy school pins, stickers, shirts, jackets, etc. Supplementing this stock are the usual pens, pencils and humorous cards.

All in all the program proves to be a valuable tool for the student eager to hit the "fruitfully employed."

JROTC: MOTIVATION TODAY FOR TOMORROW'S LEADERS

During the 1983-84 school year, the JROTC showed a great deal of motivation and interest in responding to the challenges facing them in their pre-military training.

They achieved many honors including: winning first place as the Best Marching Unit in the Tri-Town Parade, held in New Bedford on Veterans' Day, winning first place as the Best in Parade at Marion, and winning the Regional Championship.

The JROTC staff, consisting of Colonel Napoli, MSG. Collins, and Sgt. Morrison, was impressed with the enormous response and the great motivation shared by the students. In 1983-84, 30 cadets, from all classes signed up for a new Adventure Training Platoon.

Many other honors were achieved by JROTC. They participated at the mayor's inauguration and inaugural ball. In addition to this they also posted the flags at the American Legion Post I, and provided a color guard, and an honor guard at the "Four Chaplain's Service," at The Seaman's Bethel.

The enthusiasm and motivation demonstrated by the students, as well as that of the staff, has brought honor upon the JROTC. Also, many young leaders have surfaced. The experience that these young leaders and cadets received will be advantageous in helping them in the future. In addition to pursuing a military career, their training at New Bedford High will help in civilian life. Their learning to function in a competitive environment will be helpful throughout their lives.

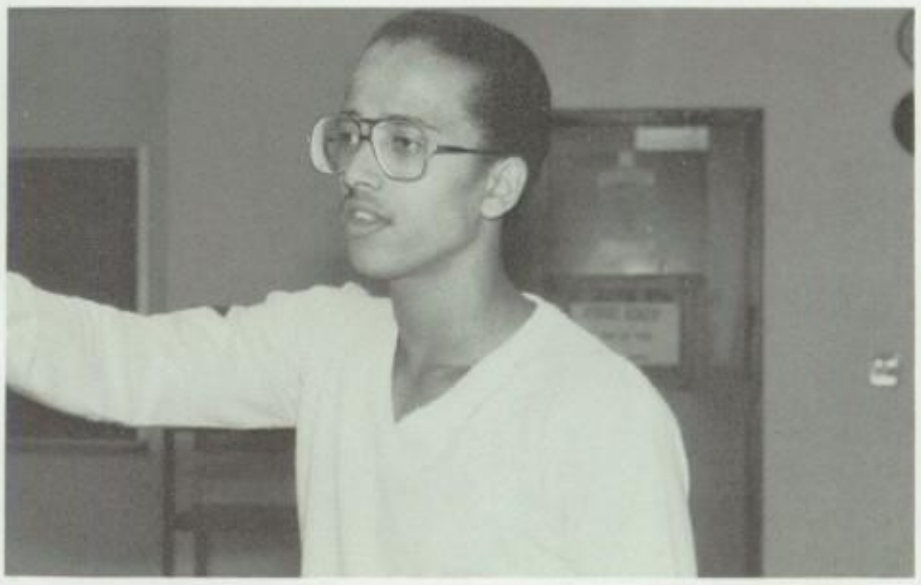
GETTING READY



FOR THE

CHALLENGE . . .

AIDES SHOW RESPONSIBILITY

Being a Main Office, T.V., or Dean's Aide gives a person experience, maturity, responsibility, and a skill in working with others. It's a very good way in which to meet new people. In the Main Office, aides meet students, teachers, parents and all the employees connected with New Bedford High School.

Since T.V. Aides work with expensive equipment the students must be mature and responsible. This job also gives the aides experience in working with others as a team. Being Dean's Aides is not all fun and games. The student becomes the Dean's friend and in many ways her right handman. One important task a Dean's Aide has is locating teachers and students who are needed by the Dean of Students. They also help with much of the clerical work behind graduation, the prom and the banquets.

AIDES SHOW SKILLS

Resource Center, Guidance, and Nurses' Aides require a great deal of special work ability. The students that are aides take time to learn how to help others.

The Nurses' aides help take students' temperatures, give them salt water solutions for their throats and help put on certain creams for burns or chapped skin. They also help sign students out on dismissals. Students feel better when a Nurses' aide is there to help them.

Guidance aides help the Guidance Counselors locate students. The aide may also deliver messages and work on necessary paperwork.

Resource Center Aides help get needed information to their fellow students. The aides pass out pink slips to the study halls and help organize books.

Helping others is what the Nurses', Resource Center, and Guidance Aides do best.

OFFICE AIDES HELP SCHOOL RUN SMOOTHLY

House office aides are essential to the office secretary and to an organized house. The aides provide the extra touch that is needed to maintain a well-run office. The office aides not only type, file, answer phones, take and deliver messages, but also, work on attendance and help anyone that needs information.

At times the work space in the office gets to be over crowded and confusing, but with a little patience and a smile, miracles can make the work fun and enjoyable.

"I found the information that you wanted."

OUR INTELLECTUAL SIDE

During their brief stay at N.B.H.S. many students have gained membership in the Honor Society or have elected to join the Shakespeare Club, or perhaps, the Math Team.

The Honor Society numbers among its annual activities the Book Fair and Student Government Day.

The Shakespeare Club pursues the mutual interest of its members through periodic trips to view the works of the great playwright.

The Math Team participates yearly in many "Math Meets." These competitions are based on the speed and accuracy with which a given problem can be solved.

HONOR SOCIETY: Seated (L-R): Ronald Jacobs, Antonio Rafael, Sue Roncka, Nicole Picard, Mike Moniz, Barbara Souza, Michelle Stuart, Maria Texeira, Barbara Collins. Standing (L-R): Christina Silva, Lisa Lacasse, Steve Myers, Marsha Torres, Debra Sylvia, Lisa Mello, Chris Bailey, Michael Richards, Pedro Almeida, Hermano Medeiros, Paula Adamowski, Karen Marcotte, Sherri Souza, Suzanne Finnerty, Christine Bolduc, Karen Booker, Mr. Mitchell.

MATH TEAM: (L-R): Margie Zable, Sandra Trafalis, Monica Leandre, Mr. T. Mitchell.

Physical and Mental

Bowling, Chess and Pep Club all require some form of mental and physical energy. Physical energy in bowling is displayed in various forms. Physical energy is obviously needed to knock down all the pins with one ball. You can achieve this by concentrating on the guiding arrow on the floor.

Chess, the so-called "game", requires mental concentration. It takes strategy to overcome the other opponent and win the match.

The Pep Club is an extension of the spirited NBHS student body. They boost morale and enthusiasm at school events.

Mental and physical energy can be achieved by encouraging practice in bowling, playing chess and cheering.

Watch out Chris Brinkley and John Stamos! Your place at the top of the Dream Date list may be in jeopardy. Here's a very small sample of what the Class of '84 can offer in the way of style and charisma to challenge your comfortable place at the top. Notice the alluring eyes and smiles of the young ladies and the sullen, half-smile look of the young men.

THE FACTS AND FACES OF '84

The biggest question on everyone's mind as 1984 approached was how close would George Orwell be in matching his fictitious novel with the reality of the world. The biggest comparison was made between "big brother" and the advance stages and take-overs of computers. The computer invaded homes and schools. Names like Atari, Adam, Apple and Coleco became as common to the high-tech teen of today as RCA and General Electric were to earlier generations. The seniors of '84 turned out term papers printed by computers, as opposed to typewriters. Everyone took some type of computer course in school; and all school-related information such as attendance reports, report cards, and transcripts were turned over to school computers. Was "big brother" swallowing up all that information? Unlike Orwell's world, the cameras in school were used for school tapings of productions, announcements and classes in TV Production. It seemed we were still a few years away from Orwell's 1984!

In the global picture, total peace seemed unattainable. Grenada, Beirut, San Salvador, to name a few, were unknown to most seniors before the names flashed out from newspapers and blared on radios and TV's. Once again, U.S. servicemen were killed while acting as "security police." The nuclear arms race seemed to escalate with little chance of the two world powers listening to the masses asking for an end to the crazy race to nowhere. On the political scene, candidates came out to challenge President Reagan and "Reaganomics" in the '84 election primaries. Jesse Jackson, a newcomer to the political scene, caused a stir; first, by being a black candidate and second, by gaining the release of an American pilot shot down by enemy forces. The forerunners in the Democratic camp were Walter Mondale, the former vice-president, and John Glenn, a former astronaut.

In the entertainment field, music burst forth with new melodies and ideas proclaiming new superstars in artists such as Boy George of Culture Club, David Bowie, Police, Billy Joel, Lionel Richie, Robert Plant, Pat Benatar and "King of the '84 music scene," Michael Jackson. His Thriller album was the biggest thing to hit the music world since the days of Elvis and the Beatles.

On the movie screen, teens flocked to see Risky Business, Two of a Kind, Flashdance, War Games, and Return of the Jedi. Everyone loved An Officer and a Gentleman and Terms of Endearment. Richard Gere became a new movie idol.

Switching to TV, two new comics reached star status. Eddie Murphy of Saturday Night Live and young Emanual Lewis of Webster captured everyone's attention. General Hospital continued to dominate the soap opera world, but was challenged by Dynasty, Dallas, and others. The A-Team burst forth with Mr. T leading the charge. Tom Selleck still won fans with Magnum P.I. New comedy hits included Cheers, Family Ties and a variety of "blooper" shows.

Superbowl XVIII received a great deal of attention in the sports world, especially with underdogs L.A. Raiders whipping favored Washington Redskins. The star of the show was #32, Marcus Allen. The biggest attraction of the winter sports scene, however, was the '84 Olympics with Americans holding hopes for several gold medals. On top of the basketball world at the "All-Star" break were the legendary Boston Celtics much to the dismay of the 76's fans.

Other miscellaneous highlights included the selection of Ms. Vanessa Williams as Miss America, the first black woman to gain the title; the stampedes occurring throughout America to become the proud adoptive parents of Cabbage Patch dolls; the breakup of Ma Bell after years of monopolizing the communications world; and of course, the graduation of the CLASS OF '84!

THE EDITOR-IN-CHIEF'S MESSAGE TO YOU . . .

As editor-in-chief of the Crimson Log '84 I'd like to take this opportunity to thank all those who have invested their time and energy to make our yearbook a success. First, I especially want to thank our Dean of Students, Ms. Bizzarro. Because of her dedication "above and beyond the call of duty", this yearbook has become a reality. Next, I'd like to thank my staff for their cooperative effort. Thanks also goes to Mr. Dick Swiech from Hunter Publishers and to the photographers from Dodge-Murphy Studios for their guidance.

The yearbook staff had a great time putting together this year's Crimson Log for you. We hope that you will enjoy looking through the book and will remember all your magical moments at NBHS . . .
